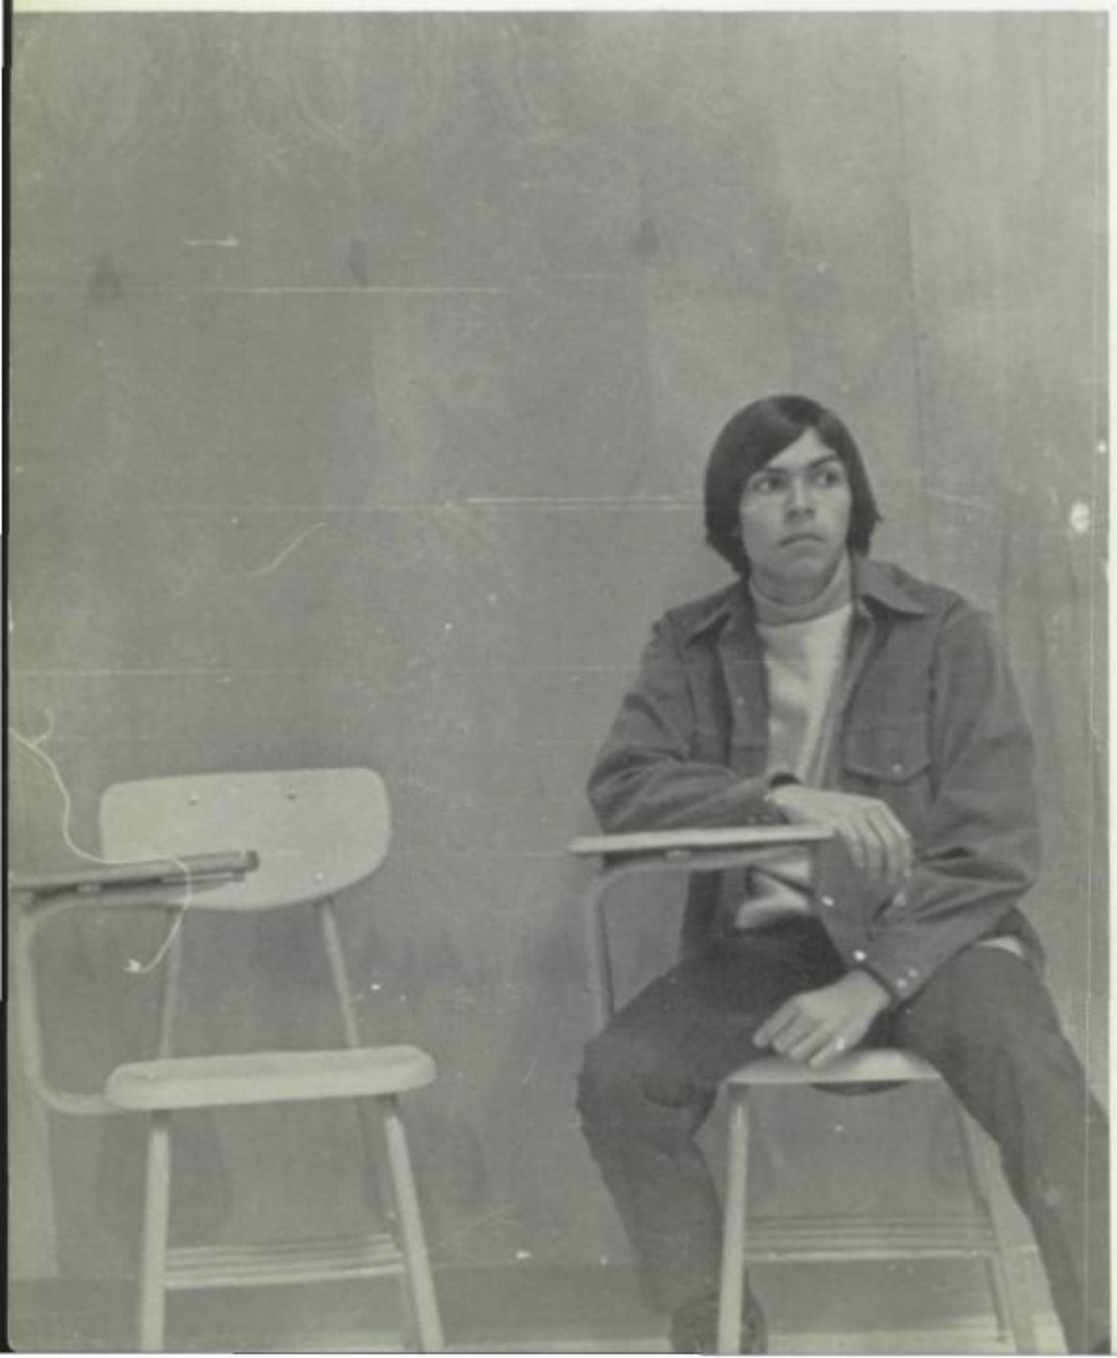
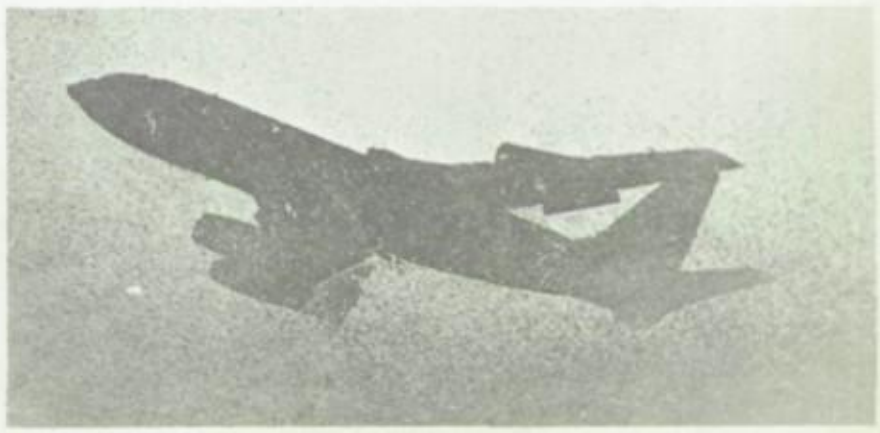
"Some people make things happen, some watch things happen, while others wonder what has happened." Here at our great school, Coconino High, that's the way it is for the varied students, faculty, and administration.

"I'd Rather Feel the Earth

"A dropout never knows what kind of work he's out of because he has never learned a trade."



"The end of wisdom is to dream high enough not to lose the dream in the seeking of it."



"O, I have slipped the surly bonds of earth. Sunward I've climbed, and done a hundred things you have not dreamed of...High in the sunlit silence...I've topped the windswept heights with easy grace. And, while with silent lifting mind, I've trod the high untrespassed sanctuary of space, put out my hand, and touched the face...of God."

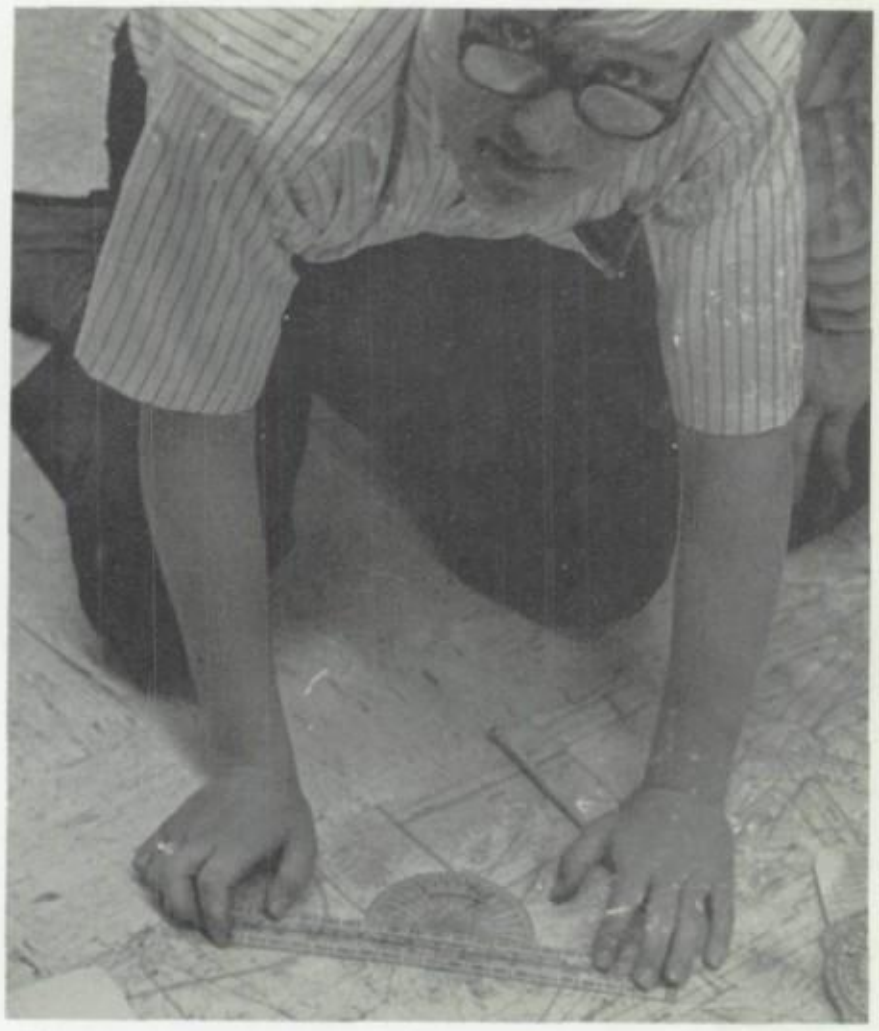
With your education, you can do anything--nothing is impossible.

An Editor Reflecting

In these times it is very important to continue your education on as far as you are possibly able. You will need your education later in life to succeed in your career. A man without knowledge cannot go forth and gain what he wants.

Education is the best way to have your feet placed firmly on the ground. This way you cannot allow yourself to be swayed by illusive dreams or idylls. You have a definite security to fall back on.

So no matter who you are or where, get your education, plant your feet squarely upon the ground, and always keep your goals in sight. With your education, you WILL succeed.



Byron Bergman is avidly studying how to measure distances on the earth. Good luck, Byron!

"Speak to the earth, and it shall teach thee." Mr. Haines and Earth Science student.

DEDICATION
To the Servicemen of the United States

"I am a man of peace. God knows how I love peace;

But I hope I shall never be such a coward as to mistake oppression for peace."

"You & I must make a pact; we must bring salvation back. Just call my name--I'll be there. Whenever you need me, I'll be there."

This year we chose to dedicate your book to the American Servicemen--both the men who choose to fight for their country, giving up an immediate goal, and the men who are called upon to fight. We dedicate the 1971 REFLECTIONS to these men who fight to better themselves, their country, and this world. We salute them in their death, in their courage, and also in OUR freedom!

Royalty Is Reality

November 9th through the 13th was set aside as SPIRIT WEEK for Coconino High School. There was much excitement with class competition, such as hall decorating, collecting bonfire wood, building floats, and root beer drinking, pie eating, races, and cheering loudest at pep assembly. The Powder Puff football game, held at noon, added a festive flair to the week. There were elections of Homecoming Royalty, with the results kept secretive until the night of the Homecoming game. The game ended the football season and SPIRIT WEEK with a victory against Phoenix Indians 14-6.

The Creators of a

TO THE MODERN MAN

From mysteries of the Past
The Future is prophesied.
The Actual comes and goes
Like shadows on a tide.

Realities come and go
Like shadows on a pool, --
The leaves are for the wise man,
The shadows for the fool.

Out of the moment Now
Rises the god To-Be,
The light upon his brow
Is from eternity.

Leave dreaming to the fool
And take things as they are
All things are in yourself,
Who stand upon a star.

And look upon the stars,
And yearn with deepening breath
All things are in yourself--
Love and Life and Death.

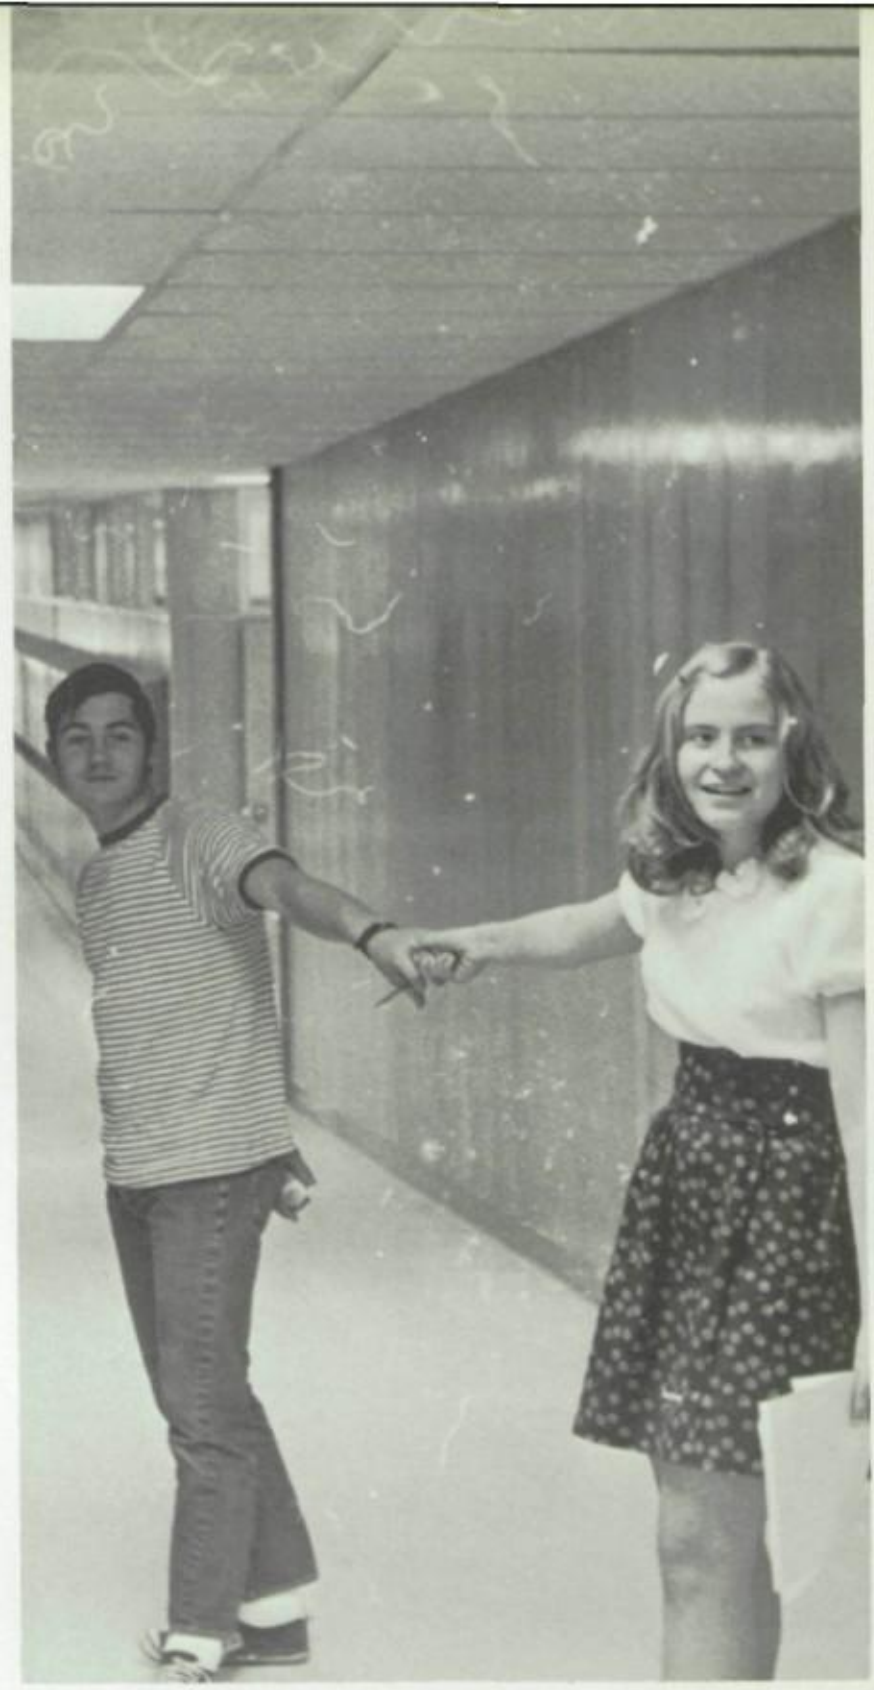
D. Walker finds the library a useful source for much needed information.

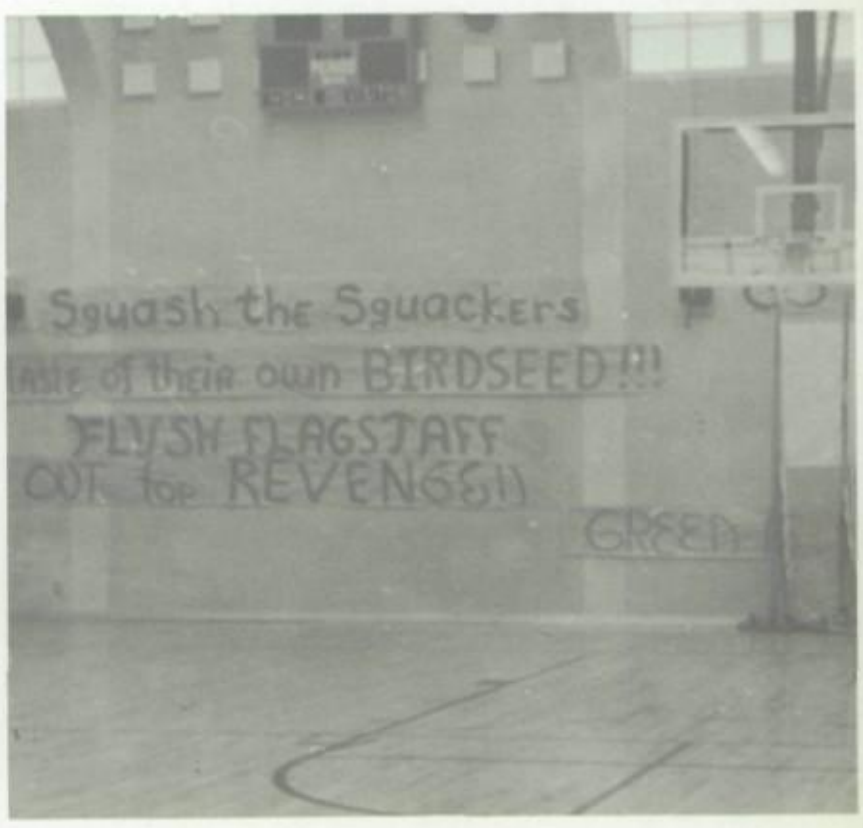
Years Come and Go but Memories Are Here to Stay.



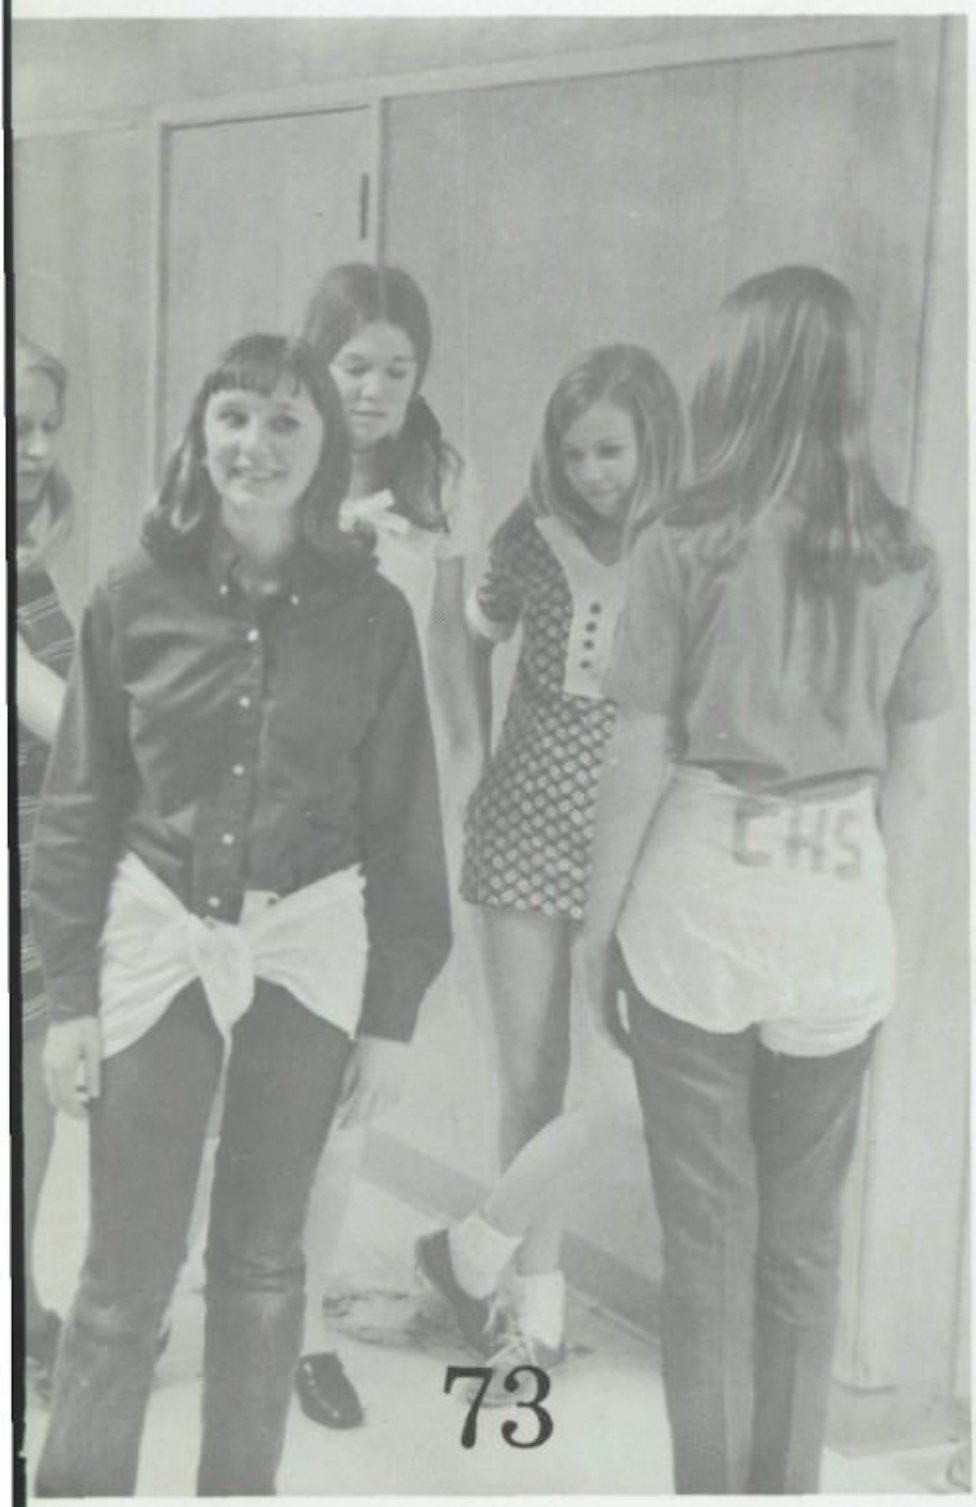
S. Long and C. Reed will always remember their last year in high school.

Memories of a victorious game against the Flagstaff Eagles.

Now, where did all those panthers go?



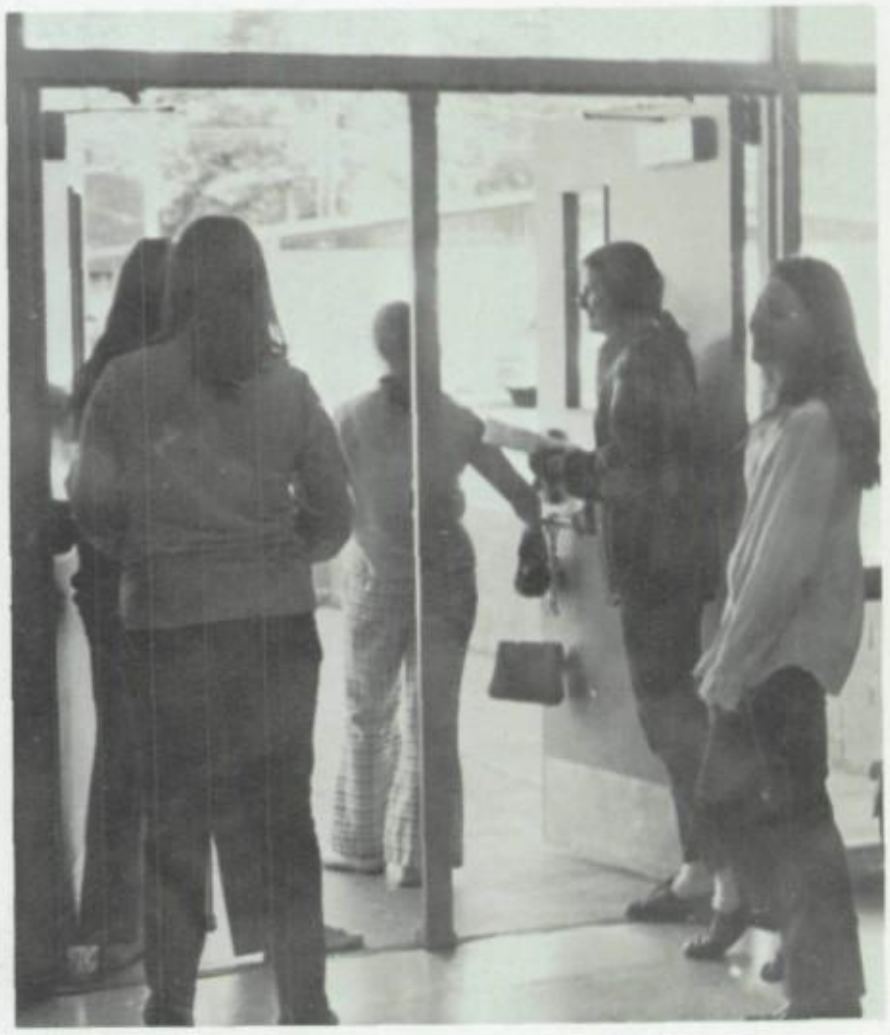
"Yes I Would, If



"A hard beginning maketh a good ending."

A TIME TO START

The Underdogs of the school, the beaten Sophomores, began their high school life with dread. They anticipated the scorn from their upperclassmen, realizing that it was their year to be ridiculed. But the '73 graduates will reflect back on this starting year, and look on it with mixed feelings. It becomes the start of a search for one's self, but by no means does it start the beginning of the end. And as these "little people" move up in rank, they will realize this information for its worth. There's a few unpleasant things about Soph life, but there is also lots of good things!



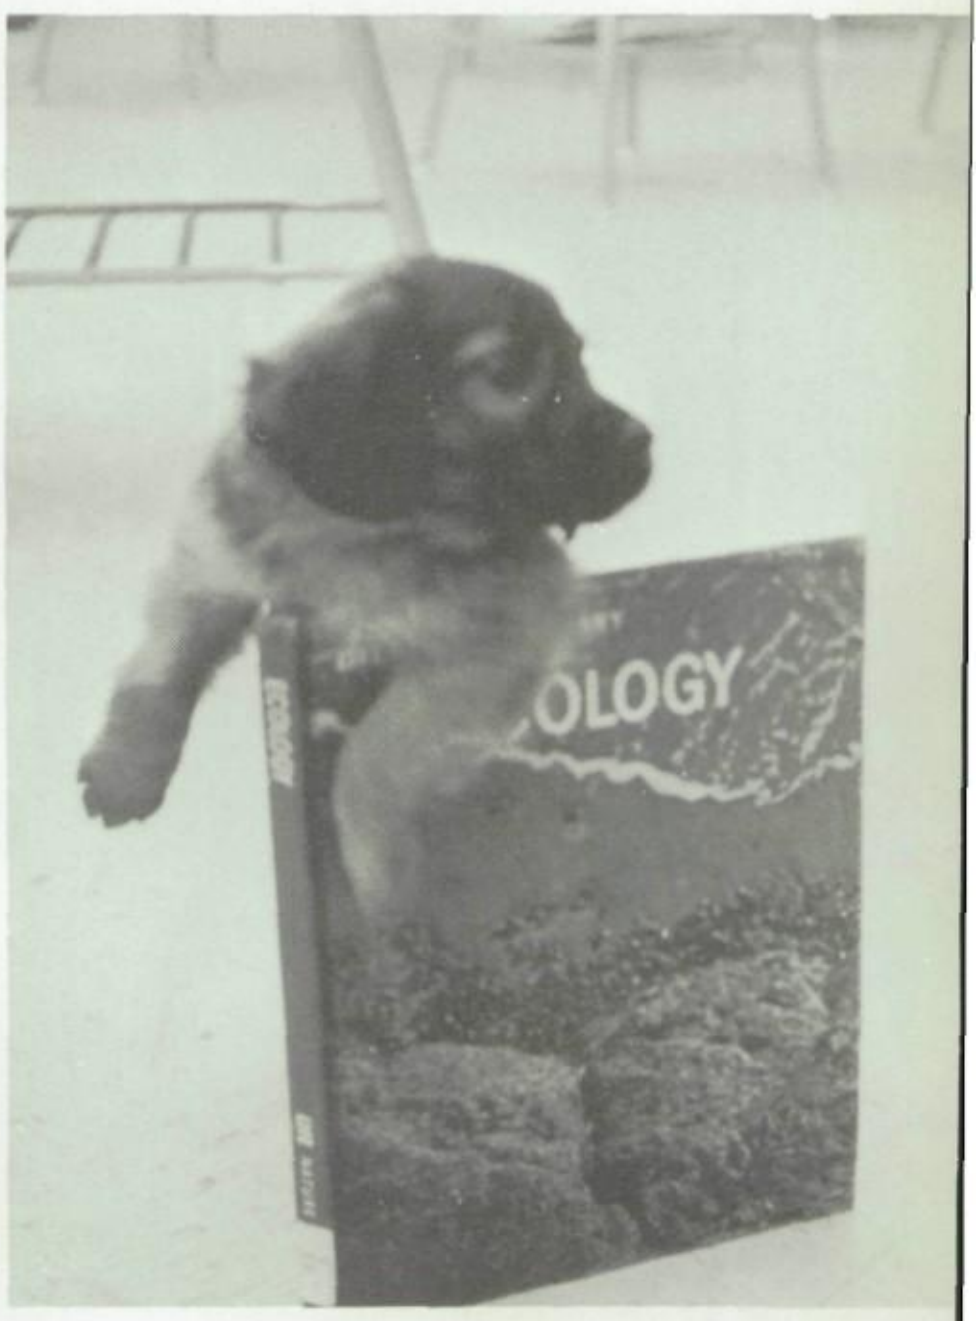
The Sophs leave now, only to return to fill Coconino with Juniors.

I dreamed a dream. I dreamed I was a bird. And I could fly. And if I could fly, I surely would.

I only could . . .

HALF-WAY THERE

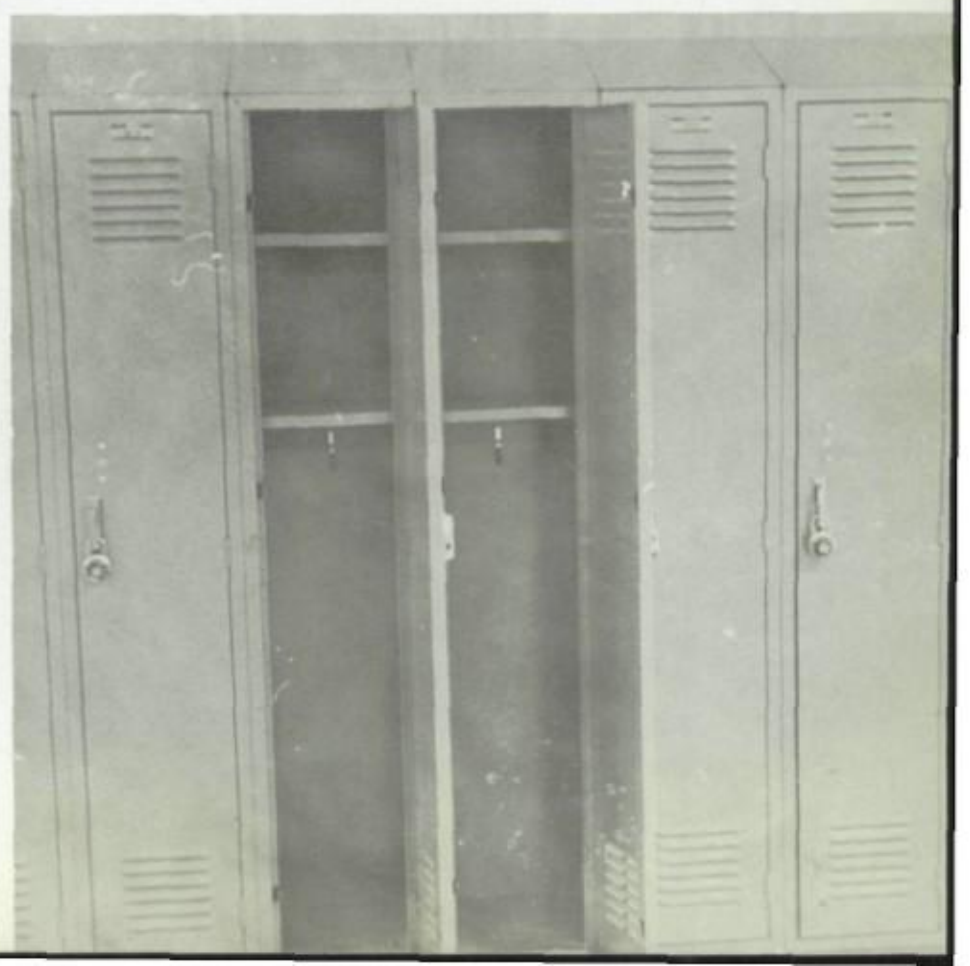
The Juniors found themselves between the Soph and Senior life. They found themselves half-way to their goal . . . graduation. Some day soon, they'll take their place in "honor" hall. Senior life awaits them with the promise of good things to come (discounting American Problems). And as they anxiously await becoming Seniors, they realize what a big step it is from half-way to the top. Upon graduation they will find themselves again at the very bottom in an institution far larger than high school; for they will take their place in the institution of life.



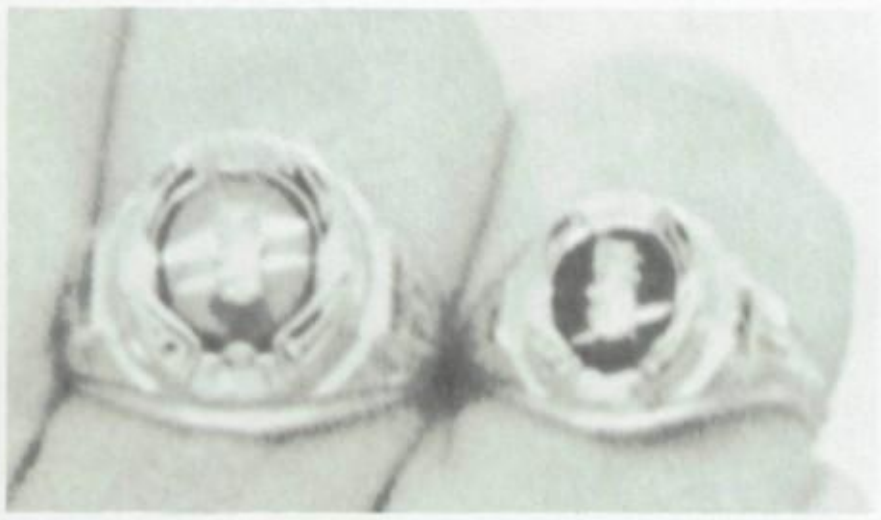
Even if some of the students don't care to be educated, at least a puppy does.

"Let the fools say what they please, knowledge is worth something"

As Juniors move up to Senior Life, their lockers stand emp waiting to be filled by next year's Juniors.



I surely would!"



The Seniors take special pride in the "71" rings, a sign of their year.

ONE LAST LOOK

The Seniors take one last look at their surroundings, for in a short while they will be graduating. Then they will reach for bigger and better things in life. Seniors reign this year, but next year they will be on the bottom, and their climb for the top will have started again. Good luck, Seniors. And may your education bring success.

"Some men see things that are and say why, I dream things that never were and say why not?" -- Robert F. Kennedy Nature made him, and then broke the mold." Thank goodess! (David Wolf)

Seniors are getting ready to finish all of their semester finals, and they look forward to June third, the night of graduation. After the much deserved and worked-for diplomas are handed out, a great number of these graduates will start over, in trade schools, colleges, universities, and in the service. Good luck graduates, and may the future hold much for you.

And Juniors, after a summer of fun they'll be back to finish their high school education. Then it will be their turn to go forward.

Then, of course, the down-trodden "little people". Sophomores, the people who have to take countless insults from their upperclassmen. But they look forward to their Junior year, and we pity the incoming "little people"!

So, as we close a book of memories, we turn our faces to a bright future. A future full of promise and the completion of hopes. The Seniors reflect back on their years of education. Some are thankful that it's all over; but the majority of the other Seniors realize that it's not the end of learning, just the beginning!

Arizona's forests have a lot to give — go see for yourself. There's something for everyone. It's a bag of fun for weekend picnickers, campers, fishermen, hunters.

An evergreen spectacular, complete with highways, trails and lakes that lure tourists and vacationers from all over the nation. A giant feedlot for wildlife, cattle and sheep. A 200-mile long commercial workshop for lumbermen and papermakers. Mighty important, too, in the support of communities through taxes paid by forest products companies.

Over the years, National Forests have become All-American institutions, carefully administered in a multiple-use manner by the U.S. Forest Service — for the greatest good, for the greatest number of people.

Because of sustained-yield conservation practices, Arizona's forest land will continue to renew itself and serve everyone for centuries to come.

And because of wisdom and understanding cultivated through education, you, like the tree, will continue to grow and serve mankind for years to come.

Go. Learn. Enjoy your forests. It's the natural thing to do.

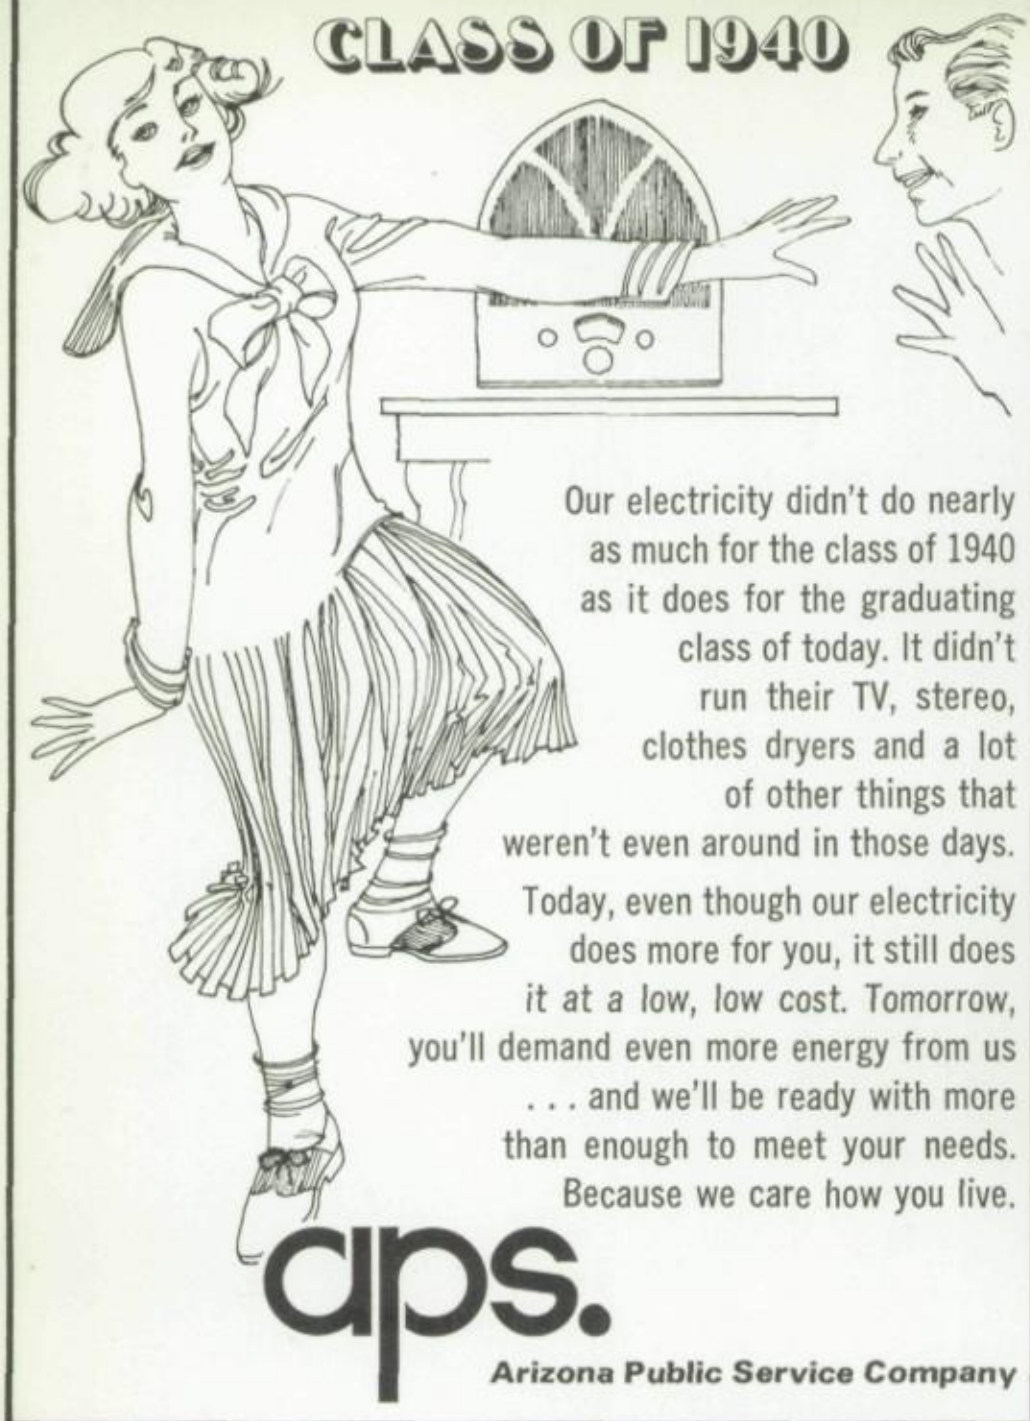
CLASS OF 1940



Our electricity didn't do nearly as much for the class of 1940 as it does for the graduating class of today. It didn't run their TV, stereo, clothes dryers and a lot of other things that weren't even around in those days.

Today, even though our electricity does more for you, it still does it at a low, low cost. Tomorrow, you'll demand even more energy from us . . . and we'll be ready with more than enough to meet your needs. Because we care how you live.

Pat,

Well Sir you're sittin here in your room doing nothing and decided to write me? Well I'll come over to visit you in your room. Well I'll be darn! I thought I'd surprise you and come over to see you but I guess you're busy now and maybe that's just as well. But next time I'm down again I'll have a car. With me? Ha! Ha! Ha!

Pat,
Just thought

to a real crazy girl.
Hope you have fun
in the years to come. We're going to miss you when you leave. But Pat,
don't forget me, 'all right? Wish me luck
with Henry. Good Luck
Your Friend
Emily
